CMDAYS-06

CMDAYS –06 is being organized by the Department of Physics Tezpur University, Tezpur, Assam, from August 29 to 31, 2006. As in the previous years, CMDAYS-06 is expected to attract the leading scientists and researchers of the country who are working in the area of condensed matter science. Apart from the plenary sessions where several eminent scientists/ experts will participate as invited speakers, there will be sessions for oral and poster presentations. Paper/poster will be presented on the following topics:

- Ø Nanomaterials
- Ø Magnetic materials
- Ø Biomaterials and biocomposites
- Ø Optoelectronic materials
- Ø Superconductors and Disordered systems
- Ø Dielectric and Ferroelectrics
- Ø Advanced polymeric materials
- Ø Measurement and Analysis
- Ø Computational methods and simulations
- Ø Interdisciplinary topics relevant to condensed matter science

Call for papers

Abstracts of the papers (not exceeding 250 words) are to be sent on A4 size paper with single space, Times New Roman, 12 point font with complete author affiliations and the e-mail address of the corresponding author, to cmd2006@tezu.ernet.in

Last date for submission of Abstract is May 20, 2006.

About Tezpur

Tezpur is a quiet, small town on the northern bank of the mighty river Brahmaputra at the foothills of the sub-Himalayan mountain range, bordering Arunachal Pradesh. Tezpur is an ancient town with rich cultural and mythological heritage.

Tezpur can be reached by road from Guwahati, which is about 200 km away. The Guwahati railway station has very good connectivity with the rest of the country. The Indian Airlines operates two flights every week in the Kolkata-Tezpur sector. Guwahati has an international airport with several daily flights operated by a number of airlines connecting Guwahati with Kolkata, New Delhi, Mumbai and Bangalore.

In August, Tezpur is warm and humid with active monsoonish weather.

Tezpur offers a bonanza to the connoisseur of art, literature and archeology. The remnants of the pre historic Agnigarh, the ancient Mahabhirav temple are just a few such places of visitors' interests. The Kaziranga National Park and the Nameri Wildlife Sanctuary are in the vicinity of Tezpur which are of interest to any wildlife enthusiast and nature lover.

Accommodation

Modest accommodation will be available at the university Guest House. Several good hotels in Tezpur town provide accommodation with reasonable tariff. Traveling Allowances (for the shortest route) may be given to young participants subject to the availability of the fund.

Registration

Registration for participation in CMDAYS-06 is to be done by sending the filled in Registration form to cmd2006@tezu.ernet.in as an attachment. The hard copy of the same can be sent to
